The vivid 2018 DiMartina is a blend of equal parts Barbera, Nebbiolo, Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon. It offers beautiful intensity and a lovely, fruit-forward personality. At its core, the wine reveals cherry fruit with delicate contours of rose hip, dried blueberries and blue flowers. There are subtle touches of spice and sweet almond. There is enough extra richness and fruity fiber to pair with thin cuts of roast beef or other light meat dishes.

Here's a lean and compact red wine that stays very true to this great grape from Piedmont, with only a light aging in big oak botte. The Mauro Molino 2018 Langhe Nebbiolo is a terrific option if you are looking for an easy-drinking red for a weekend pasta at home with your family (or alone during quarantine). The wine is light in heart and soul, both approachable and intriguing at once.
